Genesee County purchased Chevy Commons, June 3, 2020, from the City of Flint. The acquisition of Chevy Commons was made possible through grant funds awarded by the Michigan Natural Resources Trust Fund and the Charles Stewart Mott Foundation. This acquisition is in support of resources protection and public outdoor recreation.

The 72 acre, newly greened, Chevy Commons is part of the Flint Riverfront Restoration Project which will provide improved recreational access to the Flint River. Chevy Commons also provides access to the Genesee Valley Trail connecting to the Flint River Trail and Iron Belle Trail to Downtown Flint.
